VIRGINIA

OUTPLAYED

James, for Carolina, Plays Star Game at Third Base.

In the prettiest aims that has yet been witnessed in Richmond, North Carolina yesterday defeated virginia by the

The day was rather cool for base-ball, and many observed that it was more in the nature of a foot-ball day. There were about 2,500 who lined the bleachers and grand stand, and few were the instance in which an overcoat was not worn. Not withstanding the cold, however, the gam was played with an unwonted vigor, and every man went into it for all that he every man went into it for all that he was worth.

Virginia went to the bat first, and Lawler went out on a pop fly to Harris, shortstop. Walker died on first, as did Graham, who was thrown out by Harris. Carolina at the bat, Calder went to first on an error of Maddux, who on the next play made a play that smacked something of foot-bull, and put him out at second. The bull was thrown by Cunningham, and Maddux caught the runner some feet from the base. James was struck out and Story was caught out by Dalton in left field. In Virginia's second inning Dalton was caught out on a long fly to deep center field by Story. Maddux fanned at the bat, and Rice was thrown out at first bag. Carolina at the bat, Patterson was caught out by the catcher. Cunningham made a hit and was thrown out at second by the pitcher. Stem made his base on balls and Harris got to first on a fielder's choice. But the Inning ended with Hanes striking out. Virginia scored nothing in the third inning, as did Carolina. In the fourth inning, however, Lawler made a hit and Walker went to the initial bag on the error of Harris, at shortstop; but Graham and Dalton struck out and Maddux was thrown out at first. In the fourth inning, Story, for North Carolina, made a hit, but Patterson was caught on a pop fly by Moses, who then made a pretty double play by throwing Story out at first. Cunningham sent a hot one to Lawler, and died on a pretty linew to first, retiring the side.

In the fifth inning, with two men down, Hoff, for Virginia, scored on a pretty itwo-bagger by Moses, bringing in the only run that Virginia made. Carolina, however, in the fifth linning, made three hits and three runs, two of the latter being on passed balls, before the side was retired by a fly of Story's to Graham, in right field.

In the last four inulngs Virginia never made first, and the game had practically Virginia went to the bat first, and Law however, in the fifth inning, made three hits and three runs, two of the latter being on passed balls, before the side was retired by a fly 6 Story's to Graham, in right field.

In the last four innings Virginia never made first, and the game had practically gone to Carolina in the fifth inning. Carolina made three hits and two runs in the sixth luning, and one run and one litt in the seventh, Stem made the last hit in the cighth luning, and the side was retired by Rogers, who died on second.

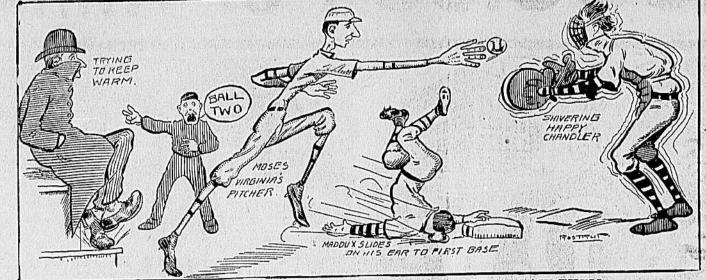

The star plays for Carolina were made.

Washington and Lee University Plays Superb Fielding Game.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) LEXINGTON, VA., April 23.—Washing-LEXINGTON, VA., April 23.—Washington and Lee University this afternoon defeated the Agricultural and Mechanical College of North Carolina by a score of 4 to 3. The visitors were not in the game until the eighth liming, when they game until the eighth inning, when they scored on an error. Two more runs were made in the ninth. The 'Varsity put ut a splendid game, Pipes scored his accustomed home run and also made a sensational catch in left-field, Chatham, at short, made several pretty stops for North Carolina; Shuford made three his out of fourt times at bat and did superficieling in right-field. Anthony played out of fourt times at but and did superb fielding in right-field. Anthony played his first game behind the but, but worked like old stager. Score by innings:

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FREDERICKSBURG, VA., April 23 .-Fredericksburg College kept up her win-ning streak by defeating William and Mary College here to-day by the score

Mary College here to-day by the score of 6 to 5. This is the third game that Fredericksburg College has won in the past week. The game was well played throughout, considering that a cold north wind was sweeping across the field. William and Mary took the bat first, and failed to score, while Fredericksburg in her half scored one run on a hit, two stolen bases and a passed ball. In the second, William and Mary, on a list and stolen base, made one run. Fredericksburg added two more on errors of the visitors and Latane's good two base hit. In the fourth inning Fredericksburg made three more runs on hits by Hall, Garnett, Lutane and Bode. William and Mary, in her half of the six, added two, and this ended the scoring on both sides. The features for William and Mary College were the pitching of Henning and the playing of Wolfe at short. For Fredericksburg College, the pitching of Jones, the batting of Latane and Bode, and the all-round good work of Hall were the ill-round good work of Hall Score by innings:

Big Meet Which Begins To-morrow Promises to Be Great Speed Competition.

LARGE NUMBER OF ENTRIES

Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ATLANTIC CITY, April 23.—With an entry list that exceeds by a score or more the number of entries received for any previous affair in this country, the Atlantic City tournament, to be held next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons, promises to be one of the greatest automobile speed connectitions in the history of American motoring. Aside from ten specially built racing machines, the meet will provide a dozen or more races in which the contestants will drive stock touring cars.

The racing will begin at 2 o'clock or The racing will begin at 2 october on Wednesday afternoon, when the tide is lowest and the sport will be continued on Thursday and Friday afternoons, with Saturday left open as a rain date. Headquarters for the Atlantic City Automobile Club has been established at the Scaside House, where the officials will meet nightly to arrange the next day's programme.

Great Gathering.

Great Gathering.

Hundreds of automobilists from all over the country are here, and expect to remain throughout the week until the races are over. Their number will be doubled in the course of a few days. Parties from all the hotels were to accompany owners down the beach to watch the speed trials, but the plans had to be given up. Walter Christle, in his 120 horse-power freak, which has some new features that promise to give it more speed than it had when entered in last fall's contests here, speeded up over the track and Haupt, in two Thomas cars, which are out for trophics, made a number of trial spins over the course. he course.
The grand stand has been strongthened

the course.

The grand stand has been strengthened and a row of private boxes have been flung along the front. There are to be reserved seats. Tickets of admission were sold at the last races and the holders got on the ground early to pick their seats. Better arrangements will goven the coming events. Interest is centered in them in every section of the country. Garages are new crowded with machines, and they are making extraordinay preparations for several thousand motor vehicles. The trolley line is busy with arrangements for handling the throngs who are expected to test the capacity of the line which goes to the track, two miles below the resort.
